

Computing on Campus Committee Report

Dec. 2, 2014

The committee has the following status updates of the new email system.

1. Google Apps for Education has been chosen as the new email system.
2. The conversion will be tested out on the PRRC first.
3. If the testing on the PRRC goes well, the TCC email will be converted sometime during the spring semester or during the break after the spring semester. The admin.nmt.edu conversion would be done after the TCC conversion.
4. For end user, you should point your email software at one of Google's servers instead of mailhost.nmt.edu. All of the email that users have on mailhost.nmt.edu will be automatically moved over to the new server. If you have local copies of email in your PC's, phones, etc., you will be able to upload it to Google Apps for Education, or just leave it where it is.
